Volcanoes Salute the Troops and Celebrate Fathers

June 12, 2013 – Vancouver, WA The Vancouver Volcanoes will take on the Seattle Flight this Sunday, June 16th at 5:00 pm with the intent of continuing their perfect home game winning streak. The game will be at the O’Connell Sports Complex on the campus of Clark College in Vancouver. Doors open at 4:15 pm with tip-off time at 5:00 pm.

The Volcanoes will honor all veterans, active duty, reserves and retirees throughout the evening. To start the evening, a Color Guard will present the “Colors.” and the National Anthem will be sung by guest vocalist, Mz Kelly. During the half-time, there will be a full-service Honor Guard featuring the various branches of service, and all veterans will be acknowledged and asked to stand when the song of their branch of service is sung during the military medley and the Salute to the Troops, again sung by vocalist Mz Kelly. “The Vancouver Volcanoes and the IBL want to acknowledge and thank all the members of our armed services,” said Clay Bonds, VP of Business Development and Game Day Operations. “We are grateful for their sacrifices, and this is the very least we can do, by saying ‘thank you.’” All military and their families are invited to the game and will get in FREE.

Vancouver Volcanoes provide the most family-friendly sports entertainment value in Clark County with lots of entertaining activities to keep the fans engaged. Volcanoes Dancers add great glitz and exciting entertainment during timeouts and quarter breaks. There is also FREE face painting for the kids, including fun contests and raffles at center court for all fans, and plenty of canine canivings by Volcanoes mascot, Cano.

FREE, full-color game day souvenir programs are provided to the fans, along with the 2013 Community Poster in support of the team. There are even places for autographs at the back of the program for the time after the game when all the players and dancers stay on the court to greet the fans with autographs and photo opportunities. The Dancers’ 2013 Volcanoes Dancers poster is also now available.
